Information Governance Policies and Procedures

Information Governance Framework Principles for Therapy Birmingham Limited

- 1. Relevant websites and documents, guides and pro-formas have been examined by Mark James Walker and the rules and recommendations relevant to Therapy Birmingham Limited have been implemented in line with the legal requirements of GDPR. These will be reviewed every 2 years or as required with constant monitoring of communications from the Information Commissioners Office (ICO).
- 2. Any changes to the business processes and/or operations will be planned and will comply with the framework to ensure any risks to personal and sensitive information are minimised.
- 3. Any data collected is solely for the purpose of providing a person-centred service to an individual client.
- 4. The Caldicott Principles are used to provide guidance in best practice when handling personal data, alongside the ICO's Office Codes of Practice.
<https://www.igt.hscic.gov.uk/Caldicott2Principles.aspx>
- 5. All technology used to store or facilitate information and communication is maintained according to the Data Retention Policy for Therapy Birmingham Limited.
- 6. All records are identifiable, locatable, retrievable, and intelligible according to regulations set out by GDPR.
- 7. It is the responsibility of the Data Controller to ensure sufficient resources are in place to prioritise adhering to Data Protection Legislation in the business.
- 9. Any electronic devices where personal or sensitive, confidential information is held will be password protected.
- 10. Procedures have been put in place to ensure the General Data Protection Regulations are met. These can be found in Section C.

Data Processing

What are the lawful basis for processing data at Therapy Birmingham Limited?

- In relation to communicating with my clients: The individual has given clear consent for their data to be processed for the specific purpose/s detailed in the consent form stored in their personal file.
- Processing is necessary in order to protect the vital interests of the data subject or of another natural person.
- Processing is necessary for your legitimate interests as specified in Article 9 of the GDPR;

1. Processing of personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership, and the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation shall be prohibited.

2. Paragraph 1 shall not apply if one of the following applies:

(h) processing is necessary for the purposes of preventive or occupational medicine, for the assessment of the working capacity of the employee, medical diagnosis, the provision of health or social care or treatment or the management of health or social care systems and services on the basis of Union or Member State law or pursuant to contract with a health professional and subject to the conditions and safeguards referred to in paragraph 3;

3. Personal data referred to in paragraph 1 may be processed for the purposes referred to in point (h) of paragraph 2 when those data are processed by or under the responsibility of a professional subject to the obligation of professional secrecy under Union or Member State law or rules established by national competent bodies or by another person also subject to an obligation of secrecy under Union or Member State law or rules established by national competent bodies.

This means that Therapy Birmingham Limited does not require consent to hold your data to provide a service but does require your consent to contact you for specific purposes. Participating in the service by attending more than one appointment implies that you agree with the Terms and Conditions provided to you at the commencement of service delivery.

Description of processing

Section C

Data Breach

All personal and sensitive data held by Therapy Birmingham Limited is held securely. Any electronic data stored on a computer is stored on a password protected computer, in password protected documents held on the C: Drive of the computer and backed up in Microsoft Cloud storage, also password protected. This supports the ability to retrieve data in the event of faults. Hardcopy data is held securely in a locked cabinet behind a locked door.

In the case of a data breach Therapy Birmingham Limited shall comply with the regulations set out under Article 33 of the GDPR stated below;

1. In the case of a personal data breach, the data controller shall without undue delay and, where feasible, not later than 72 hours after having become aware of it, notify the personal data breach to the ICO, unless the personal data breach is unlikely to result in a risk to the rights and freedoms of the individual. Where the notification to the ICO is not made within 72 hours, it shall be accompanied by reasons for the delay.

2. The notification referred to in paragraph 1 shall at least:

(a) describe the nature of the personal data breach including where possible, the approximate number of data subjects concerned and the categories (e.g. sessions notes, phone numbers) and approximate number of personal data records concerned;

(b) communicate the name and contact details of the data controller where more information can be obtained;

(c) describe the likely consequences of the personal data breach;

(d) describe the measures taken or proposed to be taken by the controller to address the personal data breach, including, where appropriate, measures to mitigate its possible adverse effects.

4. Where, and in so far as, it is not possible to provide the information at the same time, the information may be provided in phases without undue further delay.

5. The controller shall document any personal data breaches, comprising the facts relating to the personal data breach, its effects and the remedial action taken. That documentation shall enable the supervisory authority to verify compliance with this Article.

6. In the event that a data breach will likely cause a risk to the rights and freedoms of client data, the data controller must communicate the nature of the breach in clear, concise and plain language, to the client/s involved, without delay.

7. If a breach occurs but the data controller has gone to appropriate lengths to protect the data held on the client (e.g. password encryption of electronic files), or if the data controller has taken subsequent action to prevent the risk (e.g. immediately blocking a mobile device) then notifying the client will not be required.

Subject Access Request

A Subject Access Requests (SAR) permits individuals to request a copy of their personal information.

A SAR must be acted upon within one month, at the most within two months, any longer and reasonable reason must be provided. There are no fees unless there is a disproportionate fee to the organisation for sending out the information. Application for SAR should be held alongside session records, unless application was made after eight years of the end of treatment. In which case the SAR will be held for a further two years after closure of SAR.

A SAR request will include information we hold about you, Therapy Birmingham Limited will:

- give you a description of it;
- tell you why we are holding it;
- tell you who it could be disclosed to; and
- let you have a copy of the information in an intelligible form.

SAR requests should be put in writing to Therapy Birmingham Limited. A response may be provided informally over the telephone with your agreement, or formally by letter or email. If any information held is noted to be incorrect an individual can request a correction be made to their own personal information. If you wish for your data to be provided to another service provider, you may also request this in writing. There may be a legal basis to continue to hold your data and Therapy Birmingham Limited will notify you of this if that is the case. Any requests should be made in writing to Therapy Birmingham Limited.

Right to Erasure

Any person may put in a request for their personal data to be removed (the 'right to be forgotten' or the 'right to erasure'). In this instance hard copy data will be shredded using a cross shredding machine owned by the organisation and any electronic data will be permanently deleted. The client will be notified of the completion. The request for deletion of data and the confirmation of completion will be held securely until eight years after the request was made. In some instances my supervisory body or insurance company may require me to lawfully hold your files until the end of their retention period. If this arises I will notify you at my earliest opportunity.

Complaints

Therapy Birmingham Limited hopes to meet the highest quality standards when processing personal and sensitive data. Complaints can help identify areas for improvement and therefore Therapy Birmingham Limited would welcome you raising any concerns you have.

These Information Governance Policy documents were created to be as transparent and understandable as possible. It will not be completely exhaustive of all aspects of data collection. If you would like further information about a specific process, please contact Therapy Birmingham Limited.
